> CHICAGO, June 13 .- The tramp of the convention hosts is now fairly under way, and tonight Chicago is beginning to throb with the confusion and excitement of arriving throngs, some with banners and flags and gaily uniformed marchers, others made up of State delegations, with their conspicuous leaders and their cohorts of stronglunged followers and shouters. Others with the friends and admirers of the various political candidates, and still others and again others of the curious onlookers drawn from every section of the country, including many of the representatives of foreign governments who have come here to witness this national spectacle.

emptied thousands of strangers this political Mecca. The effect political Mecca. this influx is seen tonight in the surging street crowds, the growing an imation of the choked and smoky hotel lobbies, the strains of music and the swell of oratory from some of the head-quarters of candidates, and the bount-ous hospitality which these headquarters are beginning to dispense. And yet this foregathering of the Chicago convention of 1908 has already estabinshed a record for unusual calm and tranquillity, for measured by the dia and turmoil, the scenes of delirious ex-citement and the spirit of "die in the last-ditch," which has marked some hislast-ditch," which has marked some historic gatherings of the past, this invading army of delegates and spectators is a most staid and unemotional body. But it is none the less an army, with new columns coming to the front hour ly, and with the prospect of plenty of hurrah and fireworks ahead to animate the leaders and stir to blood of the onlockers. A drizzling rain tonight, after a hot, muggy day, tended to restrain the outbursts of enthusiasm, but there is promise of good convention weather ahead.

been the arriving delegations, with very many of the leaders of conspicuons national prominence and the others of the case of the five men charged with of the various political candidates. Among the notable convention figures to arrive were Don Cameron, former for the new capitol today brought in nited States Senator vania, who has not attended a national convention since 1880, when he stood with Roscoe F. Conkling and John A. Logan as the lenders of the third move-ment in the interest of General Grant eight years ago attended the Philadelphia convention with his speech seconding the nomination of Roosevelt for vice-president; Representative Screno Payne of New York, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives, who bears on his ample shoulders a good deal of the burden of future tariff revision; United States Senator Long of Kansas, who is reputed to have the Dolliver vice-presidential boom in cold storage; James S. Sherman and Tracy L. The rank and file of the State dele-gations are rather late in arriving and organizing as compared with previous conventions. But most of the States have their advance guards here. New have their advance guards here. New York's delegation arrived by a special train at noon, a considerable part of the Pennsylvania delegation was added to that already here, and other State contingents straggled in during the afternoon and evening. WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS IN GREAT PARADE

Notable Demonstration in the Streets of London: Prominent Americans Are Present.

LONDON, June 13 .- Marshalled in ight columns on the Victoria embanknient a great army of from 12,000 to 15,000 women suffragists paraded the metropolis this afternoon and wound which such well-known women as Dr. Anna Shaw, Lady Henry Somerset and were borne by the different contingents. The great procession was swelled in Trafalgar square by several thousand barmaids, who had been demonstrating against the licensing bill. This the barmaids aver threatens to deprive them of their livelihood.

All sorts of women took part in the murch and united in the common cause of woman suffrage. There were university women in caps and gowns, writers, dramatists, artists, doctors, elerks, nurses, factory hands and domestic workers

The thousands of spectators who lined the route of march generally were sympathetic. At the conclusion of her speech in Albert hall, Dr. Anna Shaw received a remarkable ovation. She said that she was delighted to help English women in their warfare and that when the women of England were free from their bondage they should go over and help the Americans, for their assistance would be required. Notable among the banners on the platform in the hall was the Stars and Stripes, bearing the name of Susan B Anthony, while among the floral tributes was a shield representing the Stars and Stripes sent from Wash-

DETECTIVE AND WIFE

The stage between Fallon and Rawhide, bound for this place, was held up and robbed this afternoon, the robbers securing the Wells-Fargo treasure box, containing it is believed, a large sum of money consigned to the banks and mining companies here.

The pussengers were lined up on the roadside and relieved of their money and jewelry, amounting to more than $500. The officers have a slight description of the handis, and it is believed their escape is impossible, and that they will either be captured or killed within twenty-four hours, as a posse under Sheriff ingalls started in immediate pursuit.

HONOLULU, June 13.—An attempt to assassinate Chief of Detectives Taylor and his wife was made early today. A dynamite bomb was exploded outside the window of their bed room. The force of the explosion shattered a large water tank, throwing the heavy timbers and istance of fifty feet and destroyed the back porch and outside staircase of military intimidation in Louisville and miscounting of ballots, with no real merit in either charge.

There is no clew to the perpetitators of the outrage, though Chief Taylor's life has often been threatened by Chinese gamblers.
